

Cyclone Death List Expected to Reach More Than Twenty

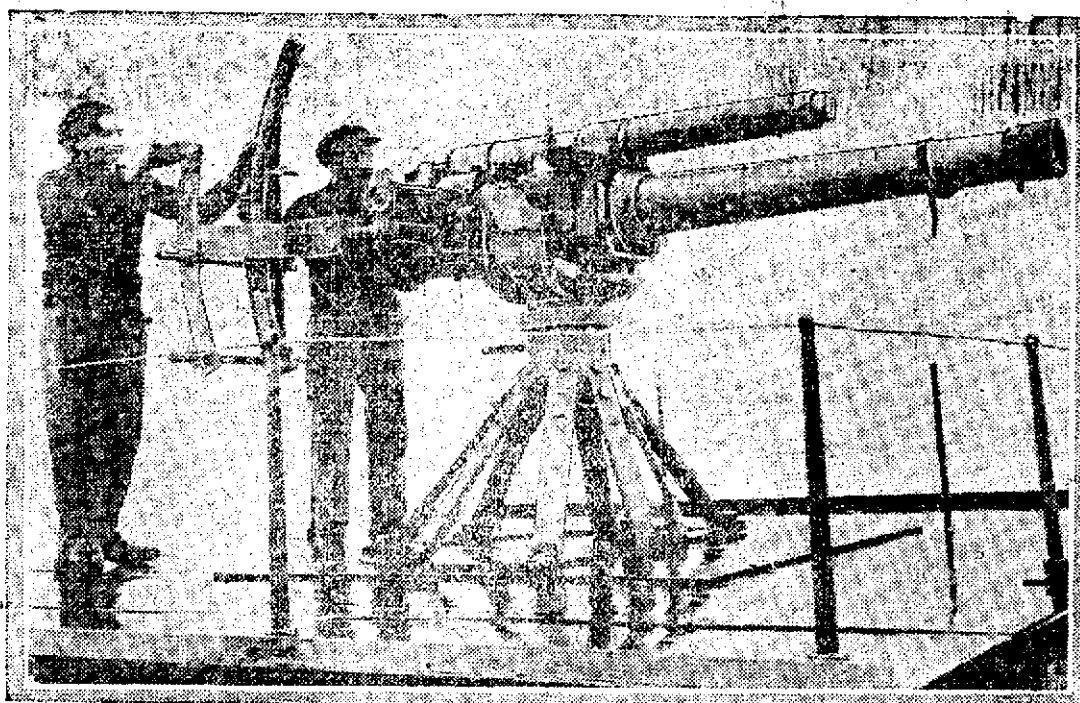

Terrible Rush of Air Current Came as Complete Surprise to Residents of City—Lasts Only Few Seconds

AID SECURED AND HOMELESS TAKEN IN

(By United Press)
New Castle, Ind., March 12.—Relief has been secured for the victims of the storm which struck this city yesterday. At least 20 persons were known to be dead. Temporary quarters for all the homeless have been found and work clearing the debris and replacing the million dollar loss has been started. Funds were received from many large cities in the state to be applied to the care of the destitute. Several duplicates were put on the list of the dead and one more name added making a total of 20 dead. Russell McLennan, aged 8 years, was the latest victim. He succumbed to injuries. Many are still missing and the death list will grow larger as the work of clearing up continues. Reports from Cincinnati covering the effected Ohio area lists 3 dead and more injured—60 seriously.
A relief committee has been organized consisting of J. W. Rodgers of

New Castle, Wm. Goodrich, brother of Mayor Goodrich and Arthur Madison of Muncie. The committee today sent out an appeal for cash donations. A hundred families are in need of money to get back on their feet. The mayor lost everything he had but his coat. His pocket book containing $205 was blown away. The loss of property is extremely heavy.
The storm came without warning and only lasted from 20 seconds to a minute and was over like a flash. It was a typical Kansas fan shaped cyclone. It struck the Indiana rolling mill first and completely leveled it. Then it struck the residential section of the town wrecking houses costing $50,000. Houses were knocked against each other and in one instance an auto and garage landed in the basement of a house. That there were not more deaths is attributed to the fact that it having been a pleasant day many families were down town or out walking.

Rochambeau Comes Back to America Like a Man-of-War

The French liner Rochambeau, which left the United States a few weeks ago, returned this time with guns both fore and aft. This photograph shows the new 19 M.M. gun on her prow, and the two men who are ready to train it on any German submarine. The vessel has carried a gun on her stern for a long time, but now she is the first liner to reach an American port with two guns.

MORE PROOF IS FOUND OF VON EIGEL PLOT

U. S. Secret Service Let Him Go in Order to Incriminate His Co-Conspirators

GRAND JURY STILL AT WORK

New York, March 12.—Wolf von Eigel, Welland canal plotter distributed at least $100,000 to be used for plot and propaganda purposes before he sailed for Germany with von Bernstorff according to information obtained at the office of the District Attorney. The District Attorney's office which made this announcement this afternoon allowed von Eigel to sail on the redecker the Eighth. This statement made today made it appear that the government deliberately let the German embassy attaché slip through their fingers in order to get other alleged plotters. The grand jury probing into German activities resumed its work this afternoon.

Denver Woman Faces Jury On Trial For Life

Claims Killing Came as Climax of Years of Torture and Trial

Denver, Colo., March 12.—Not in many years has a trial in Denver excited the intense public interest exhibited in the case of Mrs. Stella Smith, who is to be arraigned in court today for the alleged murder of her husband, John Lawrence Smith, whom she shot and killed on the morning of January 14 last. The defendant, who has been a woman of social prominence, alleges that the killing came as a climax to years of torture and cruelty she had suffered at the hands of the man she killed. The story that is expected to be brought out at the trial is one that savors more of fiction than real-life facts. As unfolded by the woman at the time of her arrest on the murder charge she had obtained a divorce from her indulgent first husband, William Moore, a Denver attorney, and had then sought to relieve "an endless existence" by marrying her step father's chauffeur. In order to "make a man" of him, the ex-chauffeur, she declared, made her life a series of horrors, as a climax to which she shot him twice when he threatened her little daughter by her earlier marriage.

"ENGLAND SHORT ON SPUDS"

London, March 12.—England feels the shortage of potatoes in her decreasing food supply more than America would under the same circumstances. The Britisher has an inordinate potato appetite. The vegetable is regarded as an essential ingredient in every meal. Throughout London cafes and restaurants are studying the potato portion while listing his price. The whole food supply emphasized the recent exhortation for economy made by Premier Lloyd George and Lord Northcliffe and others.

"KNOX ON COMMITTEE"

Other appointments were Senator Falls and Senator Knox to fill two Republican vacancies on the same committee.

GERARD'S PARTY IS LANDED AT HAVANA

Say True Food Situation in Germany Unknown to Outside World; Many are Starving

HARVEST WILL BE POOR CROP

(By United Press)
Havana, March 12.—Members of Ambassador Gerard's party arriving here today were authority for the statement as to Germany's present situation; food is very scarce and infants and the aged are succumbing because of lack of proper nourishment and mortality is increasing. Germany hopes her present food supply will last until this year's harvest but this year's harvest promises only a poor crop. Insufficiency of nitrate and metal is decreasing the output of munitions. Confiscation of private property to some extent at least has been considered by the government. Either this will be necessary of Germany will have to repudiate her war debt.

Wants $500 Damages For False Arrest

Rolla Farwell, of Grampian, Asked to Pay that Sum to Mike Hwitz

Mike Hwitz by his father and next friend, Joe Hwitz, entered suit against Rolla Farwell, of Grampian in the Clearfield county courts in which he asks $500 damages for false arrest. The suit was entered in Prothonotary Moore's office this morning by Attorney R. D. Swoope, of Clearfieldville. On September 28, 1916, Mr. Farwell appeared before Squire J. S. Fleming at Grampian and made information against the Hwitz boy, alleging that he had run a wagon out of his barn and broke it up some and had taken a wagon cover and baseball glove therefrom. The boy was arrested and held under bail for trial and when the case was brought before Judge Bell he very promptly threw it out of court and sent the boy home. The father spent about $50 defending his son and this together with the fact that the boy was damaged in his reputation by the false arrests entitles him to recover the $500 asked.

BILL HUBBARD ADJUSTER KING TALKS "SHOP"

After Adjusting Opera House Fire Losses Expert Explodes Generally Accepted Belief

GET OUT GOODS IF YOU CAN

Bill Hubbard, famous insurance adjuster, notorious story teller and most blood thirsty deer slayer that ever roamed the snowy tops of the Alleghenies, was here last week adjusting the losses incident to the recent opera house fire. As is his custom Bill succeeded in settling every claim to the satisfaction of all and at the end of the session both he and the insured went their several ways in peace and harmony, each firm in the knowledge that they had been participants in a business transaction where the golden rule was the sole guide during the entire transaction.

Bill has a whole raft of friends in Clearfield and when he sits down for a chat among his bosom friends every fellow will gather around and listen quietly, for much wisdom falls from his lips when he wills it so, while on the other hand when his deep set frank black eyes twinkle the initiated know that after listening to Bill's tale an extra pinch of salt is necessary when next they dine.

In a gabfest before leaving town Bill was induced to talk insurance, after much coaxing. In the course of his remarks on this to him an all-absorbing topic he shattered to pieces that time-honored adage "If you have her insured lock the door when the fire starts and let her burn, the insurance company will settle." The adjuster, who has grown grey in the service says this is the greatest mistake that can be made and is not fair to either insurer or insured, because in very few cases does a man have his stock insured to anything near its full value, unless he is a firebug, while if he gets a part of his goods out he saves them and is allowed every cent of damage done to them in their hasty removal. Thus is the insured reimbursed for his loss while the goods also represent a saving to the company carrying the insurance. Insurance is a matter of mutual interest, the company agreeing for a fair consideration to carry your risk for you. The rate of premium is figured on a business basis, guided by past actual experience and every dollar's worth of property saved at a fire operates to lower future rates.

Many a poor deluded mortal with a $5,000 stock and $2000 worth of insurance has "locked the door and let 'er burn," and got his $2000 when he had the opportunity of getting $1000 have had in addition his full $2,000 insurance.

This proposition worked out most satisfactory for all hands concerned in our recent fire and will do it every time.

When you have a fire "don't lock the door and let 'er burn," get as much of your goods out as possible, you will then have the goods, get your insurance for any damage and also save the insurance company needless loss.

"HARD ON TED LEIZINGER"

Washington, March 12.—Every amateur wireless station in the United States will be dismantled by order of the government if war comes it was announced here today. This will be one of the first moves to protect military and naval plans. Official admit that the German wireless stations in this country are causing them more anxiety than plotters. Several German stations have been planted in the United States, Mexico and Central America. The harm that could be done the government and aid the enemy through outlaw wireless stations officials said today is immeasurable.

"BIG LINERS WILL SAIL"

No date of the departure of vessels was given. It was requested by the navy department not to give such information. The St. Louis, St. Paul New York and Philadelphia have gone on their decks.

LINEMAN KILLED BY LIVE WIRE AT PHILPSBURG

Robert F. Taylor Comes to Fatal Wound Live Wire While At Work in Power House

TWO OTHERS BADLY INJURED

Robert F. Taylor was killed and Thomas Armstrong and Samuel Burris were badly shocked and seriously burned in an accident at the power house of the Penn. Public Service company located just beyond the town limits at Philipsburg. The electrical storm early Sunday morning had played havoc with things about the power house and Armstrong Superintendent Armstrong, electrician Burris and lineman Taylor were engaged in repairing the trouble in the power house.

It was thought possible to repair the damage without inconveniencing the people on the Clearfield end of the line by shutting off the power. While working back of the switchboard Taylor got hold of a live wire and was instantly shocked to death.

Armstrong and Burris made heroic efforts to release their fellow workmen and were both badly shocked and severely burned during the effort, and were at once taken to the Outing hospital where they are now recovering nicely.

Taylor was about 35 years of age and leaves a wife and two children. He was a resident of Clearfield before coming to Philipsburg, his father being an official of the Pennsylvania railroad.

39th Section of American Field Ambulance On Way To The Front

Many Pennsylvanians are Members of the Service About to Brave Horrors of Trench Warfare

By Wilbur S. Forrest

Paris, Feb. 18.—(By Mail)—A new, the 39th section of the American Ambulance Field service left Paris for the front today, making 300 American ambulances and a similar number of young American men who are succeeding French wounded behind the firing lines.

MONDAY EVENING, MARCH 12, 1917

Two heads are better than one except on a tack or the morning after.

"Wilson Legislation Fades in Congress"—Headline. Perhaps it died because the "dye" was not fast enough.

Another cyclone hit Kansas. Blame it on the "bone dryness" of their Prohibition law.

Arrangements for the coming County Fair are being made with a vim that is surprising to all who happen to know of the plans already made. Announcement of the different heads of departments and displays will be made within the next day or two.

We understand the streets will be cleaned after nature has provided for the melting of the ice and the washing of the streets. It is up to us to pray for a storm of pointed stones to uncover the many inlets now clogged and then pray for a dashing rain.

For those who become discouraged in trying to get better things we offer the following:

There 'aint much use of kicking
It does not make for peace,
But the wheel that does the screeching
Is the one that gets the grease.

A bill will be introduced into the Legislature tonight providing for the erection of a $500,000 office building in the city of Philadelphia for the use of state officials. In other words Philadelphia seeks to have their city designated as a sort of branch capital for a Philadelphia governor. We have had too many governors from the city of Philadelphia and as there is very little likelihood of another being from that city in the near future the erection of the proposed branch capital can well be left until the new governor is named.

Post office appointments made recently and some to be made in the near future do not appear to set well with the "left out in the cold" element in the Democratic party. Some of the leaders are preaching open revolution and the chances are that the present apparent harmony will develop into an old fashioned factional fight ere primary time rolls around. It has always been so. The smell of blood infuriates a lion, the taste of liquor makes of the red man a maniac and the sight of political pork in the hands of a lucky Democrat makes a howling revolutionist out of an otherwise perfectly nice harmless Democrat who quickly sounds the Macedonian cry so much overworked folks to mislead other malcontents regardless of the welfare of the party.

The war in Europe has given a tremendous impetus to the cause of Democracy. A war in which this country might be involved with a European nation has been seized upon by some as a pretext for increasing the powers of autocracy which already exists too strongly in some of the executive departments in the government. Such proposals as those for commandeering private enterprises under the plea of assuring a supply of war material for the nation can mean only the aggrandizement of a few bureaucrats who know next to nothing of the business they so blithely purpose to take over.

This nation has prospered and grown strong because the individual has been left free to develop his own ideas and to make his own way. We shall hamper ourselves incredibly if we try to substitute for individual enterprise and permit a nine hundred dollar government clerk to take over a nine million dollar enterprise.

The Principal

The Savings Account is for those who want to guard and keep their principal. It does not pay as high a rate of interest as business enterprises because its main object is security. MY FEELING TOWARD THE WEDDING BELLS

Success is very sweet and I love my work dearly. In fact I wouldn't care to leave it for years to come. But—what of the distant future?

Ten or twenty years from now I may be unable to play the role of the sweet young girl. Perhaps even my most enthusiastic fan friends will have transplanted their affections to newer favorites. What then?

There are many women who have achieved great success in the business world. There are, in some cases, leaders in their particular line of work. Yet I doubt if they are one-tenth as happy and contented as my next-door neighbor, who is unknown outside of her little circle of friends, so busy is she caring for her husband and little son and daughter.

Of course if "Mr. Right" never comes along I shall be perfectly contented with my work. And when I become too old for the young girl roles I shall lend my efforts in trying to retain your love as the matron, and finally as the grand dame.

Some of my friends laugh at me and proclaim daily that I want to grow old-fashioned, but somehow I shall always feel that the woman's place is her home. Not that I think she should never join welfare and up-lift movements or take an interest in current events. That is every woman's duty as the mother of future American citizens. But I do feel that she is more valuable as the cornerstone of a happy family than she could ever hope to be in the office or any other part of the business world.

How selfish it would be of me to refuse to marry if the right man came along, continuing with my work and therefore holding a position which might make some other girl as happy as it has made me.

Wedding bells play the sweetest chimes in all the world, friends, don't you think so? Yet—I fear many sit in the seclusion of their homes, and because some marriages fail imagine that all must therefore entertain a doubt as to future happiness.

Governor Brumbaugh Fixes May 24 As State-Wide Good Roads Day

Reviews Excellent Work Done on Last Annual Good Roads Day and Pleads for More Helpers

Harrisburg, March 12.—Governor Brumbaugh has issued a Proclamation fixing Thursday, May 24, 1917, as "State-wide Good Roads Day." In his Proclamation the Governor reviews the causes which led to the fixing of this date and calls on all citizens to do their share in making the day memorable in the forward movement for good roads.

The Proclamation is as follows:

In the Name and by the Authority of
THE
COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA
(Coat of Arms)
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT
PROCLAMATION

Whereas, The demand for good roads in this Commonwealth is universal and increasingly insistent, and

Whereas, The rapid development of our transportation routes is essential to the well-being of our people. Our great agricultural interests are largely dependent upon the development and upkeep of our highways. There must speedily be established an all-year, satisfactory highway service from our farms to our markets and market stations. Producer and consumer alike require this service. With the steady increase in the number of automobiles used by our people in passing from one business center to another the importance of good highways is increasingly manifest. As we open our state to visitors and citizens alike we shall find the scenic splendor of Pennsylvania increasingly appealing and our highways increasingly important; and

Whereas, In every town and city and in many rural communities many of our leading citizens, imbued with high civic purpose, have formed important bodies to promote good roads, organizing voluntarily associations such as Chambers of Commerce, civic associations, agricultural organizations, automobile clubs, county organizations, and state highway organizations—all of which is service of the loftiest character and worthy of all commendation. These, together with the press of the Commonwealth, have all commended the plan of observing a state-wide good roads day; and

Whereas, On Good Roads Day in 1916 upwards of fifty thousand citizens gave freely the day to work upon the roads, five thousand eight hundred and twenty-one drags added to the success of the effort. Approximately four thousand seventy-two miles of roads were treated. The judges of the courts in many counties joined the Executive in issuing proclamations. Many splendid women provided free luncheons for the workers. Many large corporations, with cordial good will gave of their men to aid the movement, and generally all people entered with zeal and interest upon the effort to make the day the great success of its purpose.

Therefore, I, Martin G. Brumbaugh, Governor of this Commonwealth, fully and accord with the most enlightened and progressive spirit of our people and anxious in every way at my disposal to encourage and support the people in their laudable desire to secure good roads throughout the Commonwealth, to the end that this statewide interest may be heartily promoted and that we may speedily secure a system of highways worthy of our people and their activities and that, even with inadequate appropriations we may establish safe, comfortable and permanent avenues of travel, do make and publish this proclamation:

That each and every supervisor of the several townships in this Commonwealth is obligated by law and in good conscience to give this movement for good roads cordial support and to help make this day memorable in the forward movement for better roads;

That all our citizens having a patriotic regard for this great Commonwealth shall, so far as possible, plan their personal duties in such manner as to give this entire day to the improvement of our highways. When this is not possible, I ask them to make such contributions in money as will enable the local authorities to add to the substantial good the day should accomplish;

That all owners of automobiles, living in cities or towns repair on this day to the country and volunteer their services to the end that their services may add to the safety and comfort of themselves and others when traveling upon our highways; and

That this may be a state-wide movement, memorable for the great good it shall do in the improvement of our highways and in fostering an increased sentiment for good roads everywhere in the state, in all of which the state department of highways will most heartily cooperate, I hereby designate and set aside

THURSDAY MAY 24, 1917 as State-wide Good Roads Day in Pennsylvania, given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, at the City of Harrisburg, this nineteenth day of February in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and seventeen and of the Commonwealth the one hundred and forty-first

GRANDMOTHER KNEW

Just massage Musterole into the congested spots. See how quickly it brings relief. It is especially the best remedy for the chest, throat, and lungs. It is also good for the head, neck, and back. Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said to be but a little while until the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.

THE HUMAN SIDE OF SIR JOHN JELlicoe

London, March 12.—There are other sides to Sir John Jellicoe First Lord of the Admiralty besides his fighting side.

"I have had many touching letters from wives and little children," he said the other day. The little ones ask, "When will you let Daddy come home?"

"I have answered a great many of them myself and have had to say in each case: 'It is impossible. The country needs daddies and husbands, and so long as the country needs them we must ask the wives and children to let them off.'"

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

BEEFSTEAK

Beefsteak is an article of food which walks into a slaughter house on four legs and rides out in a wagon in chunks.

Some folks like it rare. Exceedingly rare. So rare in fact that they tell the waiter to just cripple theirs and drag it in.

Other folks don't like it rare. But with prices what they are they find it rare whether they like it or not. Either mighty rare or totally extinct. One man we know was carried to the hospital the other day singing:

"Oh, what is so rare as a day in June?"

A piece of the cow that jumped over the moon."

This condition should not exist. We are in favor of more meat on beefsteak.

HILARY A HERBERT 63 YEARS OLD

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Hilary A. Herbert, who was Secretary of the Navy under President Cleveland, received congratulations from a wide circle of friends today on the occasion of his eighty-third birthday anniversary. For a man of his years Mr. Herbert is remarkably active and vigorous and probably no man in the nation has taken a keener interest in the present "naval preparedness" program than the man who once directed the destinies of the department. At the time of his appointment to the cabinet Mr. Herbert was a resident of Alabama and had long been a representative in Congress from that state. After his retirement from public life in 1897 he took up the practice of law in this city.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark glossy hair (as only be had by wearing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or thins, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enchanes its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for 50 cents a large bottle, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

TRY IT AND SEE!

Lift your corns, or calluses off with Freezone. Doesn't hurt a bit!

A noted Cincinnati chemist discovered a new ether compound and called it Freezone and it now can be had in tiny bottles as here shown for a few cents from any drug store.

You simply apply a few drops of Freezone upon a tender corn or painful callus and instantly the soreness disappears, then shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you can just lift it off with the fingers.

No pain, not a bit of soreness, either in applying Freezone or afterwards and it doesn't even irritate the skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also toughened calluses just shrivel up and lift off so easy. It is wonderful! Seems magical. It works like a charm. Genuine Freezone has a yellow label. Don't accept any except with the yellow label.

SAVE THE BABIES

These are "authentic" quotations from the pamphlet on babies by Dr. I. Emmett Holt of Columbia University and Dr. Henry L. K. Shaw of Union University.

In addition to the things listed as being bad for all babies are: Violent rocking, bouncing and rollicking play at any time, play of any sort after feeding, kissing the baby on his mouth either by members of the family or others, testing the temperature of the baby's milk by taking the nipple in your mouth, allowing the baby to suck an empty bottle. Tomorrow there will be additions to this list.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

HOW A YOUNG HUNTER PLANNED

"I will bet that much!"

[Adapted from Grimm's Fairy Tales]

DADDY and the children took a corner of the couch, and off started the bedtime story: "You may imagine how pleased a young hunter was, when he sent his pet lion to bring some of the king's wine, to see the lion standing with a basket of wine in his mouth."

"See, now," said the hunter to his friend, the innkeeper, "I have bread, meat, vegetables, sweetmeats and wine from the king's own table. Now I and my animals will have our dinner."

"They were all very hungry, you know."

"So he sat down to the table and ate and drank and gave food also to his pet hare, the fox, the wolf, the bear and the lion. He had a merry, merry heart, for he was sure now that the king's daughter cared for him. Why? Because she had given him animals the food for him."

"After dinner he said to the innkeeper: 'I have dined as the king dines. Now I will go to the castle and marry the king's daughter.'"

"Already there is a bridegroom!" cried the innkeeper. "Today the king's daughter will marry the marshal. So how can you marry her?"

"Now, when the young hunter had killed a dragon that threatened the life of the king's daughter on a mountain top she had given him her handkerchief with her name on it. In this kerchief he had put the dragon's seven tongues. You must never forget that dragons have a great many heads."

"And they spit fire!" cried Jack.

"He now held up the handkerchief. 'What I hold in my hand will help me to marry the king's daughter,' he cried happily."

"Said the innkeeper, 'I can believe everything but that. I will bet my house and farm that you do not succeed.'"

"The young hunter drew out his purse with a thousand gold pieces in it. He laid it on the table saying, 'I will bet that much that I do succeed; that I do marry the king's daughter.'"

"While all this was going on at the inn the king was sitting with his daughter. Said the king, 'What did all those wild animals that have been running in and out of the palace want of you, my dear?'"

"Said she: 'That I cannot tell you. But you will do well to send for the master of those animals, my father.'"

"So the king sent his servant to the inn with the invitation for the young stranger to visit the palace, and the servant arrived at the inn just as the hunter and the innkeeper had finished their bet," said daddy.

Then the children hugged him goodnight and ran upstairs.

CAPITOL HILL NOTES

Harrisburg, Pa., March 12. —Ten days' recess over the presidential inauguration having elapsed, legislators began straggling back today to tonight's session, but found there was with virtually no important work before them. Both houses have calendars of a dozen or so bills for tonight's session, few of which are of great general importance. One exception is the Tompkins bill to substitute life imprisonment for capital punishment, which is on third reading in the senate. If passed there is will go to the house, where several bills with the same object have been introduced.

One of the house anti-capital punishment bills expresses "the sense of the legislature" that no person convicted of a murder committed before the passage of the bill should be executed. That is as far as the legislature can make a measure retroactive. It cannot actually change the penalty for a crime already committed. Many legislators believe that no member will go to the Rockview chain mail statement that Senator Edwin E. the legislature has disposed of the capital punishment matter. The light for the women suffrage constitutional amendment. Vane has been a supporter of "votes for women" ever since it became a live issue before the Pennsylvania legislature, but has confined himself mainly to being for it in the senate. When the amendment was defeated at the polls in 1915 the "Vane words" in Philadelphia occupied no second place in putting an adverse majority.

When Governor Brumbaugh last week named mothers' assistance trustees for Allegheny county he placed Mr. Mary E. Bakewell on the list. Mrs. Bakewell is the woman who "put a flag on the map" in Pennsylvania. She appeared before both the Supreme and Democratic state conventions at Harrisburg in 1913 (the last state convention to be held before the passage of the state-wide suffrage law) and argued for the amendment. That marked the

AID SECURED AND HOMELESS TAKEN IN

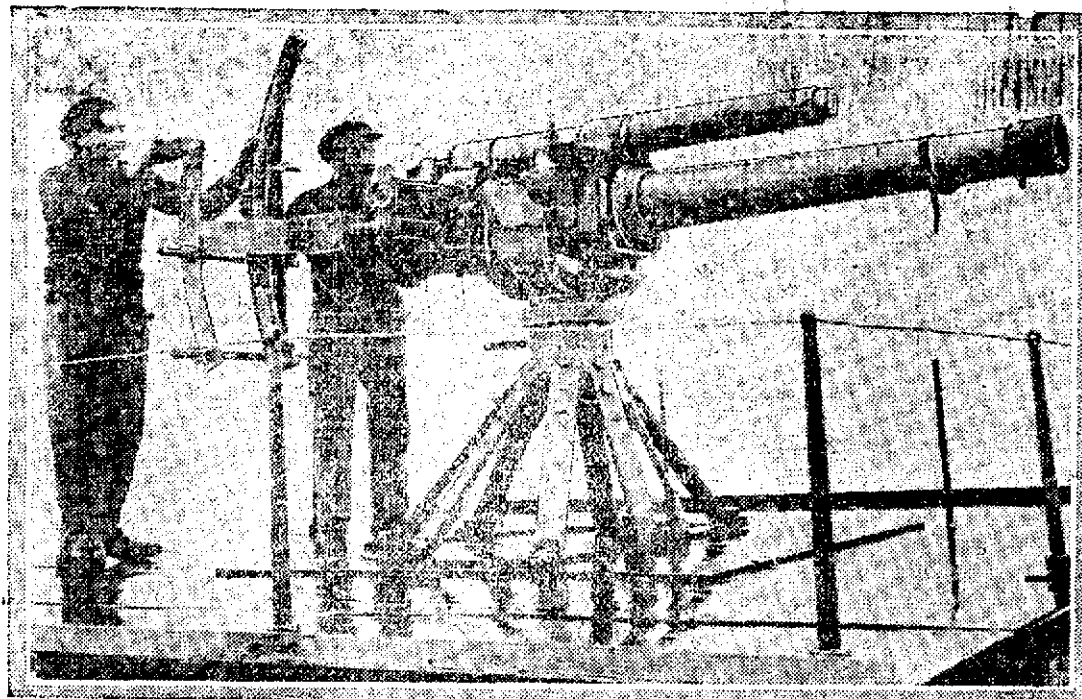

(By United Press)
New Castle, Ind., March 12.—Relief has been secured for the victims of the storm which struck this city yesterday. At least 20 persons were known to be dead. Temporary quarters for all the homeless have been found and work clearing the debris and replacing the million dollar loss has been started. Funds were received from many large cities in the state to be applied to the care of the destitute. Several duplicates were put on the list of the dead and one more name added making a total of 20 dead. Russell McLennan, aged 8 years, was the latest victim. He succumbed to injuries. Many are still missing and the death list will grow larger as the work of clearing up continues. Reports from Cincinnati covering the effected Ohio area lists 3 dead and more injured—60 seriously.

A relief committee has been organized consisting of J. W. Rodgers of

New Castle, Wm. Goodrich, brother of Mayor Goodrich and Arthur Madison of Muncie. The committee today sent out an appeal for cash donations. A hundred families are in need of money to get back on their feet. The mayor lost everything he had but his coat. His pocket book containing $205 was blown away. The loss of property is extremely heavy.

The storm came without warning and only lasted from 20 seconds to a minute and was over like a flash. It was a typical Kansas fan shaped cyclone. It struck the Indiana rolling mill first and completely leveled it. Then it struck the residential section of the town wrecking houses costing $50,000. Houses were knocked against each other and in one instance an auto and garage landed in the basement of a house. That there were not more deaths is attributed to the fact that it having been a pleasant day many families were down town or out walking.

Rochambeau Comes Back to America Like a Man-of-War

The French liner Rochambeau, which left the United States a few weeks ago, returned this time with guns both fore and aft. This photograph shows the new 19 M.M. gun on her prow, and the two men who are ready to train it on any German submarine. The vessel has carried a gun on her stern for a long time, but now she is the first liner to reach an American port with two guns.

GRAND JURY STILL AT WORK

New York, March 12.—Wolf von Eigel, Welland canal plotter distributed at least $100,000 to be used for plot and propaganda purposes before he sailed for Germany with von Bernstorff according to information obtained at the office of the District Attorney. The District Attorney's office which made this announcement this afternoon allowed von Eigel to sail on the redecker the Eighth. This statement made today made it appear that the government deliberately slip through their fingers in order to get other alleged plotters. The grand jury probing into German activities resumed its work this afternoon.

Denver Woman Faces Jury On Trial For Life

Claims Killing Came as Climax of Years of Torture and Trial

Denver, Colo., March 12.—Not in many years has a trial in Denver excited the intense public interest exhibited in the case of Mrs. Stella Smith, who is to be arraigned in court today for the alleged murder of her husband, John Lawrence Smith, whom she shot and killed on the morning of January 14 last. The defendant, who has been a woman of social prominence, alleges that the killing came as a climax to years of torture and cruelty she had suffered at the hands of the man she killed. The story that is expected to be brought out at the trial is one that savors more of fiction than real-life facts. As unfolded by the woman at the time of her arrest on the murder charge she had obtained a divorce from her indulgent first husband, William Moore, a Denver attorney, and had then sought to relieve "an endless existence" by marrying her step father's chauffeur. In order to "make a man" of him, the ex-chauffeur, she declared, made her life a series of horrors, as a climax to which she shot him twice when he threatened her little daughter by her earlier marriage.

HARVEST WILL BE POOR CROP

(By United Press)
Havana, March 12.—Members of Ambassador Gerard's party arriving here today were authority for the statement as to Germany's present situation; food is very scarce and infants and the aged are succumbing because of lack of proper nourishment and mortality is increasing. Germany hopes her present food supply will last until this year's harvest but this year's harvest promises only a poor crop. Insufficiency of nitrate and metal is decreasing the output of munitions. Confiscation of private property to some extent at least has been considered by the government. Either this will be necessary of Germany will have to repudiate her war debt.

Wants $500 Damages For False Arrest

Rolla Farwell, of Grampian, Asked to Pay that Sum to Mike Hwitz

Mike Hwitz by his father and next friend, Joe Hwitz, entered suit against Rolla Farwell, of Grampian in the Clearfield county courts in which he asks $500 damages for false arrest. The suit was entered in Prothonotary Moore's office this morning by Attorney R. D. Swoope, of Clearfield. On September 28, 1916, Mr. Farwell appeared before Squire J. S. Fleming at Grampian and made information against the Hwitz boy, alleging that he had run a wagon out of his barn and broke it up some and had taken a wagon cover and baseball glove therefrom. The boy was arrested and held under bail for trial and when the case was brought before Judge Bell he very promptly threw it out of court and sent the boy home. The father spent about $50 defending his son and this together with the fact that the boy was damaged in his reputation by the false arrests entitles him to recover the $500 asked.

BILL HUBBARD ADJUSTER KING TALKS "SHOP"

After Adjusting Opera House Fire Losses Expert Explodes Generally Accepted Belief

GET OUT GOODS IF YOU CAN

Bill Hubbard, famous insurance adjuster, notorious story teller and most blood thirsty deer slayer that ever roamed the snowy tops of the Alleghenies, was here last week adjusting the losses incident to the recent opera house fire. As is his custom Bill succeeded in settling every claim to the satisfaction of all and at the end of the session both he and the insured went their several ways in peace and harmony, each firm in the knowledge that they had been participants in a business transaction where the golden rule was the sole guide during the entire transaction.

Bill has a whole raft of friends in Clearfield and when he sits down for a chat among his bosom friends every fellow will gather around and listen quietly, for much wisdom falls from his lips when he wills it so, while on the other hand when his deep set frank black eyes twinkle the initiated know that after listening to Bill's tale an extra pinch of salt is necessary when next they dine.

In a gabfest before leaving town Bill was induced to talk insurance, after much coaxing. In the course of his remarks on this to him an all-absorbing topic he shattered to pieces that time-honored adage "If you have her insured lock the door when the fire starts and let her burn, the insurance company will settle." The adjuster, who has grown grey in the service says this is the greatest mistake that can be made and is not fair to either insurer or insured, because in very few cases does a man have his stock insured to anything near its full value, unless he is a firebug, while if he gets a part of his goods out he saves them and is allowed every cent of damage done to them in their hasty removal. Thus is the insured reimbursed for his loss while the goods also represent a saving to the company carrying the insurance. Insurance is a matter of mutual interest, the company agreeing for a fair consideration to carry your risk for you. The rate of premium is figured on a business basis, guided by past actual experience and every dollar's worth of property saved at a fire operates to lower future rates.

Many a poor deluded mortal with a $5,000 stock and $2000 worth of insurance has "locked the door and let 'er burn," and got his $2000 when he had the opportunity of getting $1000 have had in addition his full $2,000 insurance.

This proposition worked out most satisfactory for all hands concerned in our recent fire and will do it every time.

When you have a fire "don't lock the door and let 'er burn," get as much of your goods out as possible, you will then have the goods, get your insurance for any damage and also save the insurance company needless loss.

"HARD ON TED LEIZINGER"

Washington, March 12.—Every amateur wireless station in the United States will be dismantled by order of the government if war comes it was announced here today. This will be one of the first moves to protect military and naval plans. Official admit that the German wireless stations in this country are causing them more anxiety than plotters. Several German stations have been planted in the United States, Mexico and Central America. The harm that could be done the government and aid the enemy through outlaw wireless stations officials said today is immeasurable.

"BIG LINERS WILL SAIL"

LINEMAN KILLED BY LIVE WIRE AT PHILPSBURG

Robert F. Taylor Comes to Fatal Wreck Live Wire While At Work in Power House

TWO OTHERS BADLY INJURED

Robert F. Taylor was killed and Thomas Armstrong and Samuel Burris were badly shocked and probably burned in an accident at the power house of the Penn. Public Service company located just beyond the town limits at Philipsburg. The electrical storm early Sunday morning had played havoc with things about the power house and Armstrong Superintendent Armstrong, electrician Burris and lineman Taylor were engaged in repairing the trouble in the power house.

It was thought possible to repair the damage without inconveniencing the people on the Clearfield end of the line by shutting off the power. While working back of the switchboard Taylor got hold of a live wire and was instantly shocked to death.

Armstrong and Burris made heroic efforts to release their fellow workmen and were both badly shocked and severely burned during the effort, and were at once taken to the Outing hospital where they are now recovering nicely.

Taylor was about 35 years of age and leaves a wife and two children. He was a resident of Clearfield before coming to Philipsburg, his father being an official of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Young People Will Entertain Their Friends Friday Evening, March 16

The pupils of the Seventh and Eighth grades will give an entertainment in the High school building on Friday evening, March 16. 39th Section of American Field Ambulance On Way To The Front

Many Pennsylvanians are Members of the Service About to Brave Horrors of Trench Warfare

By Wilbur S. Forrest

Paris, Feb. 18.—(By Mail)—A new, the 39th section of the American Ambulance Field service left Paris for the front today, making 300 American ambulances and a similar number of young American men who are succeeding French wounded behind the firing lines.

Before the end of March 150 American ambulances and drivers will be at the disposal of the French army, it was learned today. One hundred and fifty additional machines have been ordered, and men, mostly college students, have already enlisted to have charge of the new equipment. Most of the latter are going to France in France, the following are those who entered on a service with the new ambulance section leaving Paris today:

MONDAY EVENING, MARCH 12, 1917

Two heads are better than one except on a tack or the morning after.

"Wilson Legislation Fades in Congress"—Headline. Perhaps it died because the "dye" was not fast enough.

Another cyclone hit Kansas. Blame it on the "bone dryness" of their Prohibition law.

Arrangements for the coming County Fair are being made with a vim that is surprising to all who happen to know of the plans already made. Announcement of the different heads of departments and displays will be made within the next day or two.

We understand the streets will be cleaned after nature has provided for the melting of the ice and the washing of the streets. It is up to us to pray for a storm of pointed stones to uncover the many inlets now clogged and then pray for a dashing rain.

For those who become discouraged in trying to get better things we offer the following:

There 'aint much use of kicking
It does not make for peace,
But the wheel that does the screeching
Is the one that gets the grease.

A bill will be introduced into the Legislature tonight providing for the erection of a $500,000 office building in the city of Philadelphia for the use of state officials. In other words Philadelphia seeks to have their city designated as a sort of branch capital for a Philadelphia governor. We have had too many governors from the city of Philadelphia and as there is very little likelihood of another being from that city in the near future the erection of the proposed branch capital can well be left until the new governor is named.

Post office appointments made recently and some to be made in the near future do not appear to set well with the "left out in the cold" element in the Democratic party. Some of the leaders are preaching open revolution and the chances are that the present apparent harmony will develop into an old fashioned factional fight ere primary time rolls around. It has always been so. The smell of blood infuriates a lion, the taste of liquor makes of the red man a maniac and the sight of political pork in the hands of a lucky Democratic makes a howling revolutionist out of an otherwise perfectly nice harmless Democrat who quickly sounds the Macedonian cry so much overworked folks to mislead other malcontents regardless of the welfare of the party.

The war in Europe has given a tremendous impetus to the cause of Democracy. A war in which this country might be involved with a European nation has been seized upon by some as a pretext for increasing the powers of autocracy which already exists too strongly in some of the executive departments in the government. Such proposals as those for commandeering private enterprises under the plea of assuring a supply of war material for the nation can mean only the aggrandizement of a few bureaucrats who know next to nothing of the business they so blithely purpose to take over.

This nation has prospered and grown strong because the individual has been left free to develop his own ideas and to make his own way. We shall hamper ourselves incredibly if we try to substitute for individual enterprise and permit a nine hundred dollar government clerk to take over a nine million dollar enterprise.

The Principal

The Savings Account is for those who want to guard and keep their principal. It does not pay as high a rate of interest as business enterprises because its main object is security. Yet all the while your principal lies in the Savings department, it is earning something; it is growing and not dwindling.

3 per cent interest paid on Savings Accounts.

MY FEELING TOWARD THE WEDDING BELLS

Success is very sweet and I love my work dearly. In fact I wouldn't care to leave it for years to come. But—what of the distant future?

Ten or twenty years from now I may be unable to play the role of the sweet young girl. Perhaps even my most enthusiastic fan friends will have transplanted their affections to newer favorites. What then?

There are many women who have achieved great success in the business world. There are, in some cases, leaders in their particular line of work. Yet I doubt if they are one-third as happy and contented as my next-door neighbor, who is unknown outside of her little circle of friends, so busy is she caring for her husband and little son and daughter.

Of course if "Mr. Right" never comes along I shall be perfectly contented with my work. And when I become too old for the young girl roles I shall lend my efforts in trying to retain your love as the matron, and finally as the grand dame.

Some of my friends laugh at me and proclaim daily that I want to grow old-fashioned, but somehow I shall always feel that the woman's place is her home. Not that I think she should never join welfare and up-lift movements or take an interest in current events. That is every woman's duty as the mother of future American citizens. But I do feel that she is more valuable as the cornerstone of a happy family than she could ever hope to be in the office or any other part of the business world.

How selfish it would be of me to refuse to marry if the right man came along, continuing with my work and therefore holding a position which might make some other girl as happy as it has made me.

Wedding bells play the sweetest chimes in all the world, friends, don't you think so? Yet—I fear many sit in the seclusion of their homes, and because some marriages fail imagine that all must therefore entertain a doubt as to future happiness.

Governor Brumbaugh Fixes May 24 As State-Wide Good Roads Day

Reviews Excellent Work Done on Last Annual Good Roads Day and Pleads for More Helpers

Harrisburg, March 12.—Governor Brumbaugh has issued a Proclamation fixing Thursday, May 24, 1917, as "State-wide Good Roads Day." In his Proclamation the Governor reviews the causes which led to the fixing of this date and calls on all citizens to do their share in making the day memorable in the forward movement for good roads.

The Proclamation is as follows:

In the Name and by the Authority of
THE
COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA
(Seal of Arms)
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT
PROCLAMATION

Whereas, The demand for good roads in this Commonwealth is universal and increasingly insistent, and

Whereas, The rapid development of our transportation routes is essential to the well-being of our people. Our great agricultural interests are largely dependent upon the development and upkeep of our highways. There must speedily be established an all-year, satisfactory highway service from our farms to our markets and market stations. Producer and consumer alike require this service. With the steady increase in the number of automobiles used by our people in passing from one business center to another the importance of good highways is increasingly manifest. As we open our state to visitors and citizens alike we shall find the scenic splendor of Pennsylvania increasingly appealing and our highways increasingly important; and

Whereas, In every town and city and in many rural communities many of our leading citizens, imbued with high civic purpose, have formed important bodies to promote good roads, organizing voluntarily associations such as Chambers of Commerce, civic associations, agricultural organizations, automobile clubs, county organizations, and state highway organizations—all of which is service of the loftiest character and worthy of all commendation. These, together with the press of the Commonwealth, have all commended the plan of observing a state-wide good roads day; and

Whereas, On Good Roads Day in 1916 upwards of fifty thousand citizens gave freely the day to work upon the roads, five thousand eight hundred and twenty-one drags added to the success of the effort. Approximately four thousand seventy-two miles of roads were treated. The judges of the courts in many counties joined the Executive in issuing proclamations. Many splendid women provided free luncheons for the workers. Many large corporations, with cordial good will gave of their men to aid the movement, and generally all people entered with zeal and interest upon the effort to make the day the great success of its purpose.

Therefore, I, Martin G. Brumbaugh, Governor of this Commonwealth, fully and accord with the most enlightened and progressive spirit of our people and anxious in every way at my disposal to encourage and support the people in their laudable desire to secure good roads throughout the Commonwealth, to the end that this statewide interest may be heartily promoted and that we may speedily secure a system of highways worthy of our people and their activities and that, even with inadequate appropriations, we may establish safe, comfortable and permanent avenues of travel, do make and publish this proclamation:

That each and every supervisor of the several townships in this Commonwealth is obligated by law and in good conscience to give this movement for good roads cordial support and to help make this day memorable in the forward movement for better roads;

That all our citizens having a patriotic regard for this great Commonwealth shall, so far as possible, plan their personal duties in such manner as to give this entire day to the improvement of our highways. When this is not possible, I ask them to make such contributions in money as will enable the local authorities to add to the substantial good the day should accomplish;

That all owners of automobiles, living in cities or towns repair on this day to the country and volunteer their services to the end that their services may add to the safety and comfort of themselves and others when traveling upon our highways; and

That this may be a state-wide movement, memorable for the great good it shall do in the improvement of our highways and in fostering an increased sentiment for good roads everywhere in the state, in all of which the state department of highways will most heartily cooperate, I hereby designate and set aside

THURSDAY MAY 24, 1917 as State-wide Good Roads Day in Pennsylvania, given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, at the City of Harrisburg, this nineteenth day of February in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and seventeen and of the Commonwealth the one hundred and forty-first

There Was Nothing So Good For Congestion and Colds as MUSTEROLE

But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and basted while it acted. You can now get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works gently and does not blister the skin. Just massage Musterole into the congested spots. See how quickly it brings relief. It is especially the best remedy for the chest, throat, head, and back.

It is the best remedy for the chest, throat, head, and back. It is the best remedy for the chest, throat, head, and back. It is the best remedy for the chest, throat, head, and back.

MUSTEROLE

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said to be but a little while until the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.

THE HUMAN SIDE OF SIR JOHN JELlicoe

London, March 12.—There are other sides to Sir John Jellicoe First Lord of the Admiralty besides his fighting side.

"I have had many touching letters from wives and little children," he said the other day. The little ones ask, 'When will you let Daddy come home?'

"I have answered a great many of them myself and have had to say in each case: 'It is impossible. The country needs daddies and husbands, and so long as the country needs them we must ask the wives and children to let them off.'"

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to flush kidneys if back hurts or bladder bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING

The subjects for discussion are: "Public Health," "The Home-makers' Responsibility," and "The Health in our Town." Mrs. W. O. Wilson will have charge of the program. All members are urged to be present.

HOSPITAL BENEFIT

The Senior auxiliary of the Clearfield hospital will give an auction bridge at the residence of A. B. Reed on Front street on Tuesday evening, March 13, at eight o'clock.

SOON!

Soon, Gentlemen, the doors will be thrown open to Clearfield's new and better shoe and furnishing store, a store with new goods, new ideas and new ways of doing things, a store that will combine features quite uncommon, a store that is at the same time elegant but inviting, handsome but homelike, dignified but cheerful; a store as fine as the finest in appointments as good as the best in service, as high as the highest in character yet a store where fine goods will not be extravagantly priced and in which medium priced goods will on the whole predominate, briefly a high class store with popular prices. We shall offer for your consideration the products of the country's foremost shoes and haberdashery makers the best goods and the best known goods, goods that have won their way into the hearts of men by their of genuine merit—goods only of such worth that we can depend upon one purchase bringing you back for another.

BEEFSTEAK

Beefsteak is an article of food which walks into a slaughter house on four legs and rides out in a wagon in chunks.

Some folks like it rare. Exceedingly rare. So rare in fact that they tell the waiter to just cripple theirs and drag it in.

Other folks don't like it rare. But with prices what they are they find it rare whether they like it or not. Either mighty rare or totally extinct. One man we know was carried to the hospital the other day singing:

"Oh, what is so rare as a day in June?"

A piece of the cow that jumped over the moon."

This condition should not exist. We are in favor of more meat on beefsteak.

HILARY A HERBERT 63 YEARS OLD

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Hilary A. Herbert, who was Secretary of the Navy under President Cleveland, received congratulations from a wide circle of friends today on the occasion of his eighty-third birthday anniversary. For a man of his years Mr. Herbert is remarkably active and vigorous and probably no man in the nation has taken a keener interest in the present "naval preparedness" program than the man who once directed the destinies of the department. At the time of his appointment to the cabinet Mr. Herbert was a resident of Alabama and had long been a representative in Congress from that state. After his retirement from public life in 1897 he took up the practice of law in this city.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or thins, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enchanes its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for 50 cents a large bottle, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

TRY IT AND SEE!

Lift your corns, or calluses off with Freezone. Doesn't hurt a bit!

A noted Cincinnati chemist discovered a new ether compound and called it Freezone and it now can be had in tiny bottles as here shown for a few cents from any drug store.

You simply apply a few drops of Freezone upon a tender corn or painful callus and instantly the soreness disappears, then shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you can just lift it off with the fingers.

No pain, not a bit of soreness, either in applying Freezone or afterwards and it doesn't even irritate the skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also toughened calluses just shrivel up and lift off so easy. It is wonderful! Seems magical. It works like a charm. Genuine Freezone has a yellow label. Don't accept any except with the yellow label.

SAVE THE BABIES

These are "authentic" quotations from the pamphlet on babies by Dr. I. Emmett Holt of Columbia University and Dr. Henry L. K. Shaw of Union University.

In addition to the things listed as being bad for all babies are: Violent rocking, bouncing and rollicking play at any time, play of any sort after feeding, kissing the baby on his mouth either by members of the family or others, testing the temperature of the baby's milk by taking the nipple in your mouth, allowing the baby to suck an empty bottle. Tomorrow there will be additions to this list.

MADERA'S HANDSOME NEW COAL OFFICES

Swoope, the well known Madera coal operator, and the people of the town have just cause to feel proud of the structure. The building is two stories high, constructed of concrete and brick, is fire proof, and finished in elegant style.

Daddy's Bedtime

Story

HOW A YOUNG HUNTER PLANNED

"I will bet that much!"

[Adapted from Grimm's Fairy Tales]

DADDY and the children took a corner of the couch, and off started the bedtime story: "You may imagine how pleased a young hunter was, when he sent his pet lion to bring some of the king's wine, to see the lion standing with a basket of wine in his mouth."

"See, now," said the hunter to his friend, the innkeeper, "I have bread, meat, vegetables, sweetmeats and wine from the king's own table. Now I and my animals will have our dinner."

"They were all very hungry, you know."

"So he sat down to the table and ate and drank and gave food also to his pet hare, the fox, the wolf, the bear and the lion. He had a merry, merry heart, for he was sure now that the king's daughter cared for him. Why? Because she had given him animals the food for him."

"After dinner he said to the innkeeper: 'I have dined as the king dines. Now I will go to the castle and marry the king's daughter.'"

"Already there is a bridegroom!" cried the innkeeper. "Today the king's daughter will marry the marshal. So how can you marry her?"

"Now, when the young hunter had killed a dragon that threatened the life of the king's daughter on a mountain top she had given him her handkerchief with her name on it. In this kerchief he had put the dragon's seven tongues. You must never forget that dragons have a great many heads."

"And they spit fire!" cried Jack.

"He now held up the handkerchief. 'What I hold in my hand will help me to marry the king's daughter,' he cried happily."

"Said the innkeeper, 'I can believe everything but that. I will bet my house and farm that you do not succeed.'"

"The young hunter drew out his purse with a thousand gold pieces in it. He laid it on the table saying, 'I will bet that much that I do succeed; that I do marry the king's daughter.'"

"While all this was going on at the inn the king was sitting with his daughter. Said the king, 'What did all those wild animals that have been running in and out of the palace want of you, my dear?'"

"Said she: 'That I cannot tell you. But you will do well to send for the master of those animals, my father.'"

"So the king sent his servant to the inn with the invitation for the young stranger to visit the palace, and the servant arrived at the inn just as the hunter and the innkeeper had finished their bet," said daddy.

Then the children hugged him goodnight and ran upstairs.

CAPITOL HILL NOTES

Harrisburg, Pa., March 12. —Ten days' recess over the presidential inauguration having elapsed, legislators began straggling back today to tonight's session, but found there was with virtually no important work before them. Both houses have calendars of a dozen or so bills for tonight's session, few of which are of great general importance. One exception is the Tompkins bill to substitute life imprisonment for capital punishment, which is on third reading in the senate. If passed there is will go to the house, where several bills with the same object have been introduced.

One of the house anti-capital punishment bills expresses "the sense of the legislature" that no person convicted of a murder committed before the passage of the bill should be executed. That is as far as the legislature can make a measure retroactive. It cannot actually change the penalty for a crime already committed. Many legislators believe that no member will go to the Rockview chain mail statement that Senator Edwin W. the legislature has disposed of the capital punishment matter. The point to the respite issued last week for John Nelson, of Wyoming and Patrick Callery, of Northampton, who were to die today, as samples of the governors' disposition. It is said, however, that in both these cases, courts are to be asked for new trials.

Senator E. E. Bedleman, presidential pro tem, will introduce a bill tonight creating the office of receiver of taxes in Dauphin county, putting all tax matters in one man's hands. It is so drawn as to apply only to Dauphin and one or two other counties. Two years ago a similar Bedleman bill applied to all counties generally and was defeated because many counties didn't want it. Bedleman who is the Penrose organization leader in Harrisburg, declares his county does want it, however, and that it is coming through.

Few announcements have caused much more gossip than the official statement that Senator Edwin W. the legislature will personally introduce the light for the women suffrage constitutional amendment. Vane has been a supporter of "votes for women" ever since it became a live issue before the Pennsylvania legislature, but has confined himself mainly to being for it in the senate. When the amendment was defeated at the polls in 1915 the "Vane words" in Philadelphia occupied no second place in putting an adverse majority.

When Governor Brumbaugh last week named mothers' assistance trustees for Allegheny county he placed Mr. Mary E. Bakewell on the list. Mrs. Bakewell is the woman who "put a flag on the map" in Pennsylvania. She appeared before both the Supreme and Democratic state conventions at Harrisburg in 1913 (the last state convention to be held before the passage of the state-wide suffrage law) and argued for the amendment. That marked the beginning of the end of the suffrage battle.

This Little Girl Had the Whooping Cough

There isn't any "cure" for this disease, but her mother wisely rubbed her with the "external" treatment—Vick's VapoRub salve, which loosens the phlegm, and eases the coughing paroxysm. Better than internal medicines for all forms of croup or cold troubles.

Mrs. Walter Bishop, 139 Wright St., Corry, Pa., keeps a "Bodyguard" on hand to protect the family from all forms of cold troubles. This Bodyguard is the Southern remedy, Vick's VapoRub Salve, and you just apply it externally—no harsh medicine to swallow. VapoRub is absorbed through the skin, taking out the tightness and soreness, and is also inhaled as a vapor. Mrs. Bishop used it on her little girl for whooping cough, and on her husband and herself for deep colds, and writes—

"We just apply it over the throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth, and put a little up the nose, and the next morning your head is clear. We try not to be without it in the house."

Remember that Vick's VapoRub can be used freely with perfect safety on the smallest child, 25c and up.

Present Week Marks The 150th Anniversary of Andrew Jackson

Fame Came to Him in Life as Even the Exact State of Birth is Unknown

Washington, D. C., March 12.—The present week marks the 150th anniversary of the birth of Andrew Jackson, hero of the battle of New Orleans and seventh President of the United States. It has become customary to regard Jackson as "the patron saint of Democracy," but irrespective of political affiliations he is one of the most conspicuous and important characters in American history. His prominence is in large measure due to the fact that although he was not in himself a great constructive statesman like Hamilton, or a great orator like Clay, his election to the Presidency and his subsequent career mark out a new era in American politics and a new stage in the development of democracy.

Jackson was of very humble origin. Even the place of his birth has been disputed, both North Carolina and South Carolina claiming him as a native son. The date of his birth was March 15 1767. His early life was unedifying and uninteresting and gave no promise of the career that was to follow. In early manhood he removed to Tennessee, where he made more of a name for himself as an Indian fighter than as a lawyer, for which profession he had studied. At the same time he rose to prominence in the affairs of the new state of Tennessee, helping to frame its constitution and being elected its first representative to Congress. Subsequently he served for a short time in the United States, which position he resigned to accept a place on the supreme bench of Tennessee. At the end of his judicial career he retired to private life, engaging in business as a planter and merchant. Not until the beginning of the second war with Great Britain did he again take an active part in the affairs of the nation.

Two weeks after war was declared Jackson offered, through the governor of Tennessee, his own services and those of his division of 2500 state militia, but the troops were not called for by the general till after Hall's defeat in Canada. Jackson organized his force and started with it for the south, but by the time he had reached Natchez he received an order from the new secretary of war, John Armstrong, dismissing him from public service. Jackson marched his men 300 miles back to their homes in Tennessee and disbanded them.

WAGON LOADED COAL CASES

Harrisburg, March 12.—Testimony of several witnesses in the "wagon-loaded coal cases" this morning brought that phase of these proceedings to a close, and argument started early this afternoon.

Railroad companies are seeking to escape supplying cars to soft coal mines which do not have loading facilities.

Argument is also being heard this afternoon of abolishing the Mar. 15 grade crossing, later enough.

"THE NINETY AND NINE"

Special at the Globe Tomorrow

Ruth Blake lives with her father and mother in Marlow, a small town in the far west. To this town comes Tom Silverton, a mysterious stranger from the city. He is well dressed and well educated, but always intoxicated.

To the consternation of the sterner portion of Marlow's population, Ruth sets to work to reform Tom. The latter, impressed by the dignity of the girl, shows signs of reform.

Tom starts to drink heavily and Ruth drags him out of the tavern and sends him home. There is a big barn dance and all go except Ruth, who refuses because Tom has not been invited. Abner Blake warns Ruth if he ever sees Silverton in his house he will kill him.

Tom comes to bid Ruth goodbye when he is going away. He wants to spare her the humiliation of seeing him intoxicated on the streets. She makes a final plea with him to reform, and he promises to make one more effort. Spying on this, a Huddy Bryson, a half-witted boy in love with Ruth, hurries to the barn dance and tells Abner that Tom is in the house. Abner hurries back. Ruth is afraid of her father's wrath, persuades Tom to escape via her bedroom window. Abner comes and she denies the truth and orders her from his house.

In Marlow the people are suffering the most intense heat of the summer. A forest fire breaks out and the entire town is threatened. Ruth and Tom learn of the predicament when they are in the telegraph office. Tom and Ruth secure an engine after much trouble and risking their lives by driving through the raging forest, they save the population before the entire town is wiped out, thus winning the gratitude and affection of those who previously scoffed at them.

MEDAL FOR WAR BREAD CAUSES CRITICISM

"The war loaf made with a pure hand is a communion bread. In which the whole country lives transubstantiated. Like the body of the Redeemer. In the sacrifice of the Eucharist."

Rome, March 12.—The Italian ministry of agriculture has offered a gold medal to the inventor of a new economical war bread. The award is an inscription for the medal written by Gabriele D'Annunzio. It hasn't made much of a hit in some quarters, one suggestion being that it is blasphemous and irreverent. No Catholic baker would accept the medal, one newspaper declared.
